

Hokkaido Shizunai Agricultural High School

Equine Education

Our high school is the only school where you can learn about racehorses, from breeding and training to selling at an auction, as a subject in Japan. Because of this unique curriculum, we have students from all over the country.

Practice And Experience-Based Study Of The Food System

Our students learn about the food system, which includes production of raw materials, processing of them, and selling processed goods. Through these learning experiences, the students cultivate their quality food.

Career Education

Our school has prepared Dual Practicum (DP) and Graduation Year Internship (GYI) in collaboration with local companies and farms. DP was designed to deepen our students' technical knowledge of and skills of their studies. GYI was set to measure our students' aptitudes for jobs they are interested in and to reduce the chances of them quitting their first jobs after graduation early.
